

- 6 Jul 2009 Reviewer : JW

Our second trip to Hoyzen, this time for Fathers Day. A very warm welcome to the restaurant, followed an amazing 2 course meal. We all enjoyed the lobster, which was fresh and the cooking variety / sauces' appealed to everyones tastes. Will defiantely be coming back again soon.

- 26 Jun 2009 Reviewer : GP

Very nice location, friendly and attentive staff from the beginning to the end! We opted for the 3 course set menu where you can choose the cooking style of your dishes, which were nicely cooked but not really exciting. Small restaurant but with a good ambience for a wednesday night. Would add wines by the glass on their nicely selected wine list.

- 21 May 2009 Reviewer : DE

Hoyzen in East Hanningfield, Chelmsford This is no ordinary oriental meal !! The food and service was terrific and their reputation is spreading with enough diners on a Wednesday night to still provide a good ambience. It specialises in fish with several choices of cooking styles and complimentary sauces. The service was attentive without being overbearing.

- 19 May 2009 Reviewer: HY

Excellent customer service, delicious food, we were given extra serving of prawns as the first lot were apparently too small - not for us, we could barely touch the extra! Great to finally find a good restaurant in the area.

- 13 May 2009 Reviewer: AD

Hoyzen, East Hanningfield. Another good meal here. The choice is good and I liked being able to choose what fish & how it was cooked. The food was superbly cooked and well presented, will definately be returning.

- 11 May 2009 Reviewer : GC

This was my first visit to Hoyzen following a recommendation from a colleague at work and what an excellent recommendation it was. Great food, excellent service and will be definately returning to try more of the menu. A great evening all round.

- 6 Apr 2009 Reviewer : CH

Went to Hoyzen, Chelmsford for birthday meal. Very impressed with service and style of place although it was very noisy. We both had £23 set meal which had a gorgeous starter and main however dessert was a little disappointing. Manager was very sociable and was keen to make sure we had had a great night, even giving all the females a beautifully wrapped pink rose as they left.

-

- 1 Apr 2009 Reviewer : NW

The £25 set menu was good value but we went a la carte. 6 different types of fish were on offer plus scallops, crab, king prawns and lobster all at reasonable prices. You choose your fish, how you want it cooked and it comes with rice, noodles and veg. The wine list was good value too with a sancerre rose at £21! All in all a great meal and worth the drive. Would definitely re-book.

- 13 Mar 2009 Reviewer : tara cook - foodie

The Hoyzen - Lovely food, Ambience and service it made our 40th Birthday celebration

- 3 Mar 2009 Reviewer : Adam Gordon - foodie

Took the missus here for a swift lunch last week. We got more than we expected in value, 2 sea bass fillets on a bed of noodles and dessert/coffee for £10, very reasonable. The food was cooked perfectly and the service attentive but not overbearing. The decor merges sleek modern furniture and bar with the classic infrastructure of the old pud itself. we will be back!

- 2 Mar 2009 Reviewer : Quan Liu

fantastic food and excellent, attentive staff. really lovely evening and will be back!

- 14 Feb 2009 Reviewer : JB

We all enjoyed our meal at Hoyzen. The menu is extensive and the food is well cooked and presented. The service was very good, especially considering we were a party of 10. It was the day before Valentine's Day and all the ladies in the party were presented with a single real rose which was a lovely gesture. We would certainly return and recommend it to our friends.

- 12 Feb 2009 Reviewer : Gemma Isaacs

Went to Hoyzen for a birthday dinner. From the outside it looks like a country pub however once inside it is contemporary and well done. The food is gorgeous. This is a fish restaurant with an oriental twist. There is an extensive menu from which you can choose which fish you like and then how you would like it cooked. We all had the set menu for £23.50pp for 3 courses and coffee all enjoyed their meals. Only downside is that we were 1 of 2 tables. Excellent service and would highly recommend!

- 2 Feb 2009 Reviewer: (Anonymous)

Lovely evening. Good food and good service, great for our village. TP.

- 19 Jan 2009 Reviewer : SG

Good went on my first date there excellent service and food was very good. I would highly recommend, will definitely visit again.

- 14 Jan 2009 Reviewer : James OSullivan

Excellent food and service and reasonably priced, an offer would attract me back! A different type of restaurant in the area and would definitely recommend!

- 29 Dec 2008 Reviewer : alec mctaggart

We visited the Hoyzen as a family on Boxing Day evening, and were immediately welcomed in with a very personal service, the waiter remembering where we sat on our last visit. The service throughout the evening you couldn't fault and value for money was good. The price is not cheap but the food and service more than made up for it . We will definitely be back. Alec McTaggart